

Salad anyone - lettuce, lettuce, lol

---

Well here's my head of lettuce. Here it is all together.

Here is the lettuce head in pieces.

I used green touchtape on the bottom of each leaf. I put hook on the "head". I made a ball and it on a stem for the inner head. I think it turned out really nice.

Of course I made it with no pattern but atleast this time I thought enough to trace the pieces I used so that if I wanted to do it again, I could. I've forgotten to do that in the past and had to refigure how to make something.
It was pretty easy but time consuming.

Its made from 100% cotton woven fabric.

How did you get the leave crumple on the ends?

I took a needle and thread and roughly hand gathered it about 1/2" from the top edge.
